MAINE ELECTION.

The first important State election that has occurred since Gen. Grant's Administration came into power took place in Maine on Monday last. The candidates for Governor were Joshua L. Chamberlain, Republican; Franklin Smith, Democrat; N. G. Hitchborn, Prohibition. Governor Chamberlain was re-elected. The temperance people run a ticket of their own in order to test the positive strength of their party in the State, and succeeded in somewhat dividing the Republican vote. A Legislature was also elected, which is undoubtedly Republican, and will ratify the proposed Fifteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution. It will also elect a United States Senator to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of Hon. Wm. Pitt Fessenden. The two most prominent Republican candidates for the position at present are Speaker James G. Blaine and Governor Chamberlain.

DR. DILL insists that he was called away from Harrisburg by business engagements when the vote was taken on the bill to increase the salaries of members to $1500. The Dr. found it convenient to be absent frequently during the session. One Thousand Dollars was pretty good pay for three months nominal service in legislative life, with the liberty of spending one-half the time at home, and roaming about the country on free passes—to say nothing of the weightier attractions always to be found by "knowing ones" in and around the lobby. We are not surprised that the Dr. desires to be sent back to Harrisburg. It was evidently to him a goodly land, flowing with milk and honey. But this dodge of "necessary absence" pending the vote on the $1500 bill, is a weak defence. Legislative "dodgers" are always neccessarily absent. But then, it is a customary thing at Harrisburg for members, honestly absent, on important votes, to have their names recorded after their return, provided they can satisfy the House that they didn't mean to "dodge." The Dr's name doesn't appear on the record, and he must not complain now that is he held to the record of his own making.

ALDERMAN MCMULLEN—the noted leader of Democratic rowdies in Philadelphia—in the meeting of the Board of Aldermen, last week, gave notice that the Registry Law would be disregarded in his ward, (the famous 4th,) and any attempt to send officers there to supervise the election would result in Riot and Murder! The 4th Ward is the "Sodom" of Philadelphia, the home of the bruisers, thugs, and repeaters, who, under McMullen's manipulation, do the dirty work of their party leaders—stuff the ballot-boxes—vote on dead men's names—and practice nameless frauds and outrages at elections. McMullen ran the Democratic State Convention, and largely aided in Packer's nomination. The threat of Riot and Murder was made by McMullen, in his official capacity in the Board of Aldermen. It was not an idle threat—he knows his men, and means what he says. If law-abiding Democrats are willing to train under such leaders let them vote for Packer & Co.

THERE will be four separate tickets or slips to be voted at the coming October election. One ticket headed "Judiciary," for Judge of Supreme Court; one headed "State," for Governor; one headed "County," for Senator, Representative and all county officers, and one headed "Township" (or "Borough," as the case may be,) for Justice of the Peace, Boards of Election, Supervisors, etc. Our friends in the different boroughs and township had better arrange to have their tickets for township or borough officers printed, the same as the other tickets.

SOLDIERS of Pennsylvania, while you were on the field fighting through the gloomy struggle of the war, Mr. Pershing, of Cambria, was safely housed at Harrisburg in the Assembly, steadily and consistently voting against you and the country. Your pay, your honor, your flag, the credit of the nation, enlistments, and the draft to recruit your shattered ranks, all suffered at the hands of Attorney C. L. Pershing, of Cambria. At that time you had to fight for the protection of that man, his property and family, but you need not vote for him now.

JOHN W. GEARY was born in a "log cabin," near Mt. Pleasant, in Westmoreland county, in 1819. He is now in his fiftieth year, vigorous, hale and active.

ASA PACKER, was born in Connecticut, in 1805, and is now in his 64th year, feeble, avaricious, and gouty.

WHILE Gov. Geary was refusing to be the instrument of the slave-drivers and border ruffians in Kansas, and was nobly standing up there for freedom, Mr. Packer was in Congress, humbly and servilely following the lead of Toombs, Wigfall and other fire-eaters, in their plans to hand over all our free territory to the slavery interests.

"PEGGING AWAY."—MR. BOUTWELL keeps "pegging away" at the public debt. He knocked off a five and a half million chip in August, when everybody expected he would barely hold his own. Fifty millions reduction is pretty good for the first six months of Gen. GRANT's administration.

GEN. GEARY—HIS POSITION IN HISTORY.

In reading "Sherman's March to the Sea," says the Titusville Herald, the following allusions to the Republican candidate for Governor are worthy of note. The writer being a New Yorker, and correspondent of the Herald, cannot well be suspected of partiality to a Pennsylvanian, and particularly to one of Gen. Geary's political connections. Speaking of Gen. Logan, he says:

"He was long the alcalde of San Francisco, and subsequently mayor. His first administration as Governor of Kansas in troublesome times helped much to tranquilize the disaffected there. He has firm administrative abilities, is a man of great force of character and resolution, and of a kind, accessible disposition. He patiently listens to the complaints and entreaties of all, but administers justice with a firm, impartial hand.

"His government of Savannah gave great satisfaction; when Gen. Sherman was about commencing his compaign through Carolina, a deputation of the most respectable citizens waited on him, requesting him to leave Gen. Geary in command of the city; Gen. Sherman could not well spare so active an officer from the field, and therefore declined.

"General Geary and the officers of his staff will be long and kindly remembered in Savannah for his upright administration and courteous behavior to all parties.

"He did all in his power to encourage the citizens to establish friendly relations towards the Federal Government, and to make them feel that their interests were reciprocal."

Such testimony from a source, not only disinterested but rather more likely to be prejudiced against a Pennsylvania soldier of Republican proclivities, speaks volumes in favor of General GEARY. It was given after the close of the war, when no further military honors could be bestowed upon its subject, and before General GEARY was spoken of for Governor of Pennsylvania—a position to which the people have elevated him once, and will elevate him again.

GEARY AND OUR STATE DEBT.

While everybody is delighted with the financial out-look at Washington, let us look at home, and note how closely the economy of GEARY resembles the economy of GRANT. Hon. H. BUCHER SWOPE, at a Republican meeting in Bellefonte, Centre county, on the evening of the 25th, made this telling point:

"He showed that for a period of thirty years—from 1829 to 1859—with the exception of three Gubernatorial term, the Democratic party held the Executive power of the State, and with the exception of three or four years, perhaps, entire control of the Legislative branch of the State government. During this period, he said, including the light debt contracted previously under Democratic Administrations, the State was saddled with a debt of $40,000,000, and a State tax of three mills on real estate, producing annually about $1,800,000, was levied in 1844 to pay the interest. This was purely Democratic policy. That party is fairly chargeable with the $40,000,000 debt and the $1,800,000 tax. And this is not all They are responsible for the war of the rebellion; and being responsible for the war, they are responsible for its consequences, among which we may reckon $5,000,000 extraordinary expenses, which the State was obliged to incur, to enable her to act her part in the war, and subsequently a sum which will probably reach $10,000,000, to house, fed, clothe, and educate the orphan children of brave soldiers and sailors who perished in combat, or died of disease or exposure in the service of their country. With these $15,000,000 the Democracy are, therefore, chargeable, their expenditure being the legitimate result of the rebellion, and the rebellion being the legitimate fruit of Democratic doctrine. Carrying out these ideas, and pursuing the train of thought, Mr. Swope went on to show that by the close of Gov. Geary's administration the regular State debt will have been reduced to fifty ten millions, and the war debt, and for soldiers' orphans' education expenses about eight millions, and there will remain in the State Treasury railroad bonds of the Pennsylvania company, or guaranteed by it, some twelve millions more.—To make it clear, said Mr. Swope, let us recapitulate. And to substantiate his position he stated the case as follows:

State debt, created by Democrats	$40,000,000
War debt, created by Democrats	5,000,000
Soldiers' orphans' created by Democrats	10,000,000
Total	$55,000,000
Paid off by ten years' Republican rule	$18,000,000
Railroad bonds	12,000,000
Debt unprovided for	$25,000,000

The Democratic party by the act of April 29, 1864, had fastened upon the real estate of the tax-payers a State tax from which about $1,800,000 annually was realized. This was repealed by the Republican Administration of February 23, 1866. The thirty years' policy of the Democratic party may be summed up in fighting corporations and taxing the masses of the people. The Republicans have repealed the tax upon the masses of the people, and manufacturing corporations now pay the taxes which sustain the State Government.

WHO CAN TELL ?—Asa Packer has been in the State Legislature and in the National Congress. The people desire to know what he did in either of those positions to benefit the State or nation, or to distinguish himself as a statesman, so as to entitle him to the office of Governor of Pennsylvania.—Who can tell ?

VOTES, DON'T FORGET.

That JOHN W. GEARY has proved himself a gallant soldier as well as a good Governor!

That on the 28th of June, 1861, he was mustered into the service as a Colonel and successfully fought those who attempted to destroy the Union!

That on the 25th of April, 1862, he was promoted Brigadier General!

That on the 11th of January, 1865, he was made Major General!

That he was wounded at Bolivar, Cedar Mountain, and Chancellorsville!

That to the present day he carries rebel lead in his body!

That as
Mayor of San Francisco!
Governor of Kansas!
Military Governor of Savannah!
And, finally, as Governor of Pennsylvania!

He has invariably discharged the duties imposed upon him with honor to himself and credit to his native State!

Who can show a better record?

We ask you, then, to work from now until election day for the continuance in office of this faithful public servant. Let it not be said that you discarded a man you knew to be true and faithful for one who had nothing but money to recommend him for the high office he seeks.

TOWNSHIP ELECTIONS.

By an act of the Legislature, at its last session, spring elections were abolished, and all elections for township officers, &c., will be held on the second Tuesday in October. The law is as follows:

"SEC. 15. All elections for city, ward, borough, township and election officers, shall hereafter be held on the second Tuesday in October, subject to all the provisions of the laws regulating the election of such officers not inconsistent with this act; the persons elected to such offices at that time shall take their places at the expiration of the terms of the persons holding the same at the time of such election; but no election for the office of assessor or assistant assessor shall be held under this act, until the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy."

IT will be an evil hour for Pennsylvania when Assemblyman C. L. Pershing has the opportunity to turn his votes into judicial decisions.

FOR Supreme Judge of Pennsylvania we want two things—a lawyer and a loyal man.

POLITICAL ITEMS.

TENNESSEE has gone Democratic by about 60,000, and her bonds have gone down about six per cent.

THE Republican Convention of Wisconsin met on the 1st inst., and re-nominated Lucious Fairchild for Governor.

IT is estimated by intelligent parties that the Republican majority in Ohio will reach 40,000.

THE Campaign is opening with spirit, in the western part of the State. Some of the ablest Republican speakers of the State are on the stump there.

THE Ohio Democracy went from Rosecrans, the War Democrat, to Pendleton, the Anti-War, Democrat, at one step. The stride, says an exchange, was long enough to split it up to its chin.

GALUSHA A. GROW declines to be considered a candidate for Representative. This is to be regretted, as men of Mr. Grow's integrity and ability would give purity and dignity to our legislation.

MOST of the seven republican Senators who voted against the impeachment of Andy Johnson have been singularly unfortunate. Henderson, of Missouri, and Van Winkle, of West Virginia, have been superseded and left out in the cold; Fowler, of Tennessee, will probably be superseded by Andy Johnson himself in the coming Senatorial election in that State; Fessenden, of Maine, is now lying dead; and Grimes of Iowa, an invalid in Paris, it appears has resigned. Only Trumbull, of Illinois, and Ross, of Kansas, remain intact of all the bold and independent seven. Such is the whirligig of party politics. It whirls men in and whirls them out, but still the world wags on.

THE Democratic ticket for the municipal officers in Philadelphia, has melted away in the bitter feeling which the personal and political characters of many of the nominees has engendered. For some time past there has been great dissension in the party and many desertions from it on this account, and the culmination was an effort to throw aside the ticket and nominate a new one. The outside pressure of the disreputables of the party defeated the movement, and the nominee for City Treasurer, yesterday, withdrew from the contest, and advised the other nominees to do so. The family feud coming close upon the election, is believed to have placed the success of the Republicans beyond peradventure.

A HANDSOME CONTRIBUTION.—The Beaver Radical is responsible for the statement that Packer has paid his first installment toward campaign expenses to the Democratic State Committee, and that the amount was a round one hundred thousand. This was done three weeks ago, and Packer, in order to get the money back headed the coal conspiracy by which the price was recently raised from one to two dollars per ton. As the owner of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, and most of Lehigh coal mines, he can make the amount of this contribution in two or three weeks. The joke is on the Republicans, since they, in purchasing coal, have been compelled to contribute toward Packer's electioneering expenses.—Democrats are of course willing to pay the extra price demanded, since it is for the good of "the party."

THE AVONDALE DISASTER.

The question having been raised as to the manner in which the Avondale miners met their death, the Pottsville Miners' Journal, which is generally good authority on everything connected with coal, prints the following as the theory of their death:

From all the facts connected with the case, we are impressed with the belief that the parties met their death by suffocation from smoke and deleterious gases from the burning debris which permeated the entirety of the workings through the inability of the miners to close the gangway down against its advances. Had they been able to have done so, and to have prevented the escape of the air in the mines by sealing up the gangway and air passages, sufficient of it might have been retained to have prolonged their existence so long as they could have done without food.

An ineffectual attempt appears to have been made to secure and fasten the gangway near the bottom of the shaft. But the person who attempted it was found by its side with every evidence upon his features and connected with his person that he died suffocated by the blinding smoke and fames arising from the smoking debris. His comrades, seeing his untimely end, and closely followed by the smoke and flames from the burning mass, returned to the places where their bodies were found, where, after a vain and ineffectual struggle with the destroyer, they yeilded up the ghost.

The loss of life by the Avondale disaster is happily less than at first reported, 110 being the full number of the dead. That includes all that were at work on the inside when the fire broke out, and the two who sacrificed themselves in the effort to save their comarades. But there are 59 widows and 160 orphans for relief, and we have no doubt the efforts making to raise a fund for their benefit will be successful.

THE Nashville University is to be re established, and an informal leader of the Presidency of the institution has been made to General Joseph E. Johnston.

THE Richmond Enquirer is glad the Harvards lost, because "the Northern people have enough to be proud of," and it desires that "some check should be administered to American conceit."

A LADY in Boston, who lost a child by death last week, sent for ten different clergymen to officiate at the funeral, but all of them were absent from the city. As the only alternative, a lawyer read the burial service.

CHARLES ORME, who was hung at Stroudsburg on the 11th ult., and who fell to the ground by the breaking of the rope, struggled fifteen minutes after being hung the second time. Such a barbarous mode of punishment is a disgrace to our country.

THE sheriff of Dauphin county advertises no less than five divorce cases for persons to appear at the next court to show cause, if any they have, why they shall not be divorced from the bonds of matrimony respectively entered by them. Two of these applications are from husbands and three from wives.

TWITCHELL NOT DEAD.—The Bellefonte Watchman publishes a story to the effect that Twitchell, the murderer of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Hill, is not dead, but at the present time is in Montana. The paper publishes a letter purporting to have come from a subscriber, who saw Twitchell, had a conversation with him, and examined the pardon received from the hands of Gov. Geary. This is doubtless a canard, gotten up for political purposes, as it is not likely that such an occurence would escape the scrutiny of the Philadelphians and those who had charge of Twitchell.

HON. JOHN BELL, of Tennessee, died on the 10th inst., in the 72d year of his age. His death will excite very little interest in the political world. Like many other politicians he proved false to his country in the hour of her extremest peril, and having thus flung away his grandest opportunity to win popular affection, and to prove his worthiness to be the custodian of high trusts, he sank out of sight, and from holding the position of an honored leader, he became an obscure traitor, whose death will not be mourned outside of his own circle of personal friends.

A TERRIBLE storm visited Boston on Wednesday afternoon, causing a destruction of property to the amount of $1,000,000. Granville M. Clark, a well known citizen, was killed, and several others were injured by flying timbers. The Collseum and the Broadway Methodist Church were blown down. The storm extended over Eastern Massachusetts, and much damage was done everywhere in its path. In Rhode Island, it was also very severe and several lives were lost. In Providence about one hundred buildings were unroofed, and the Hartford Railroad depot was demolished. The gale also prevailed along the coast of Maine, causing marine disasters and loss of life.

A MAN named Frederick Weber committed suicide on Tuesday afternoon, by hanging himself by the neck to a rafter on the garret of the dwelling house in which he boarded, in the alley between East King and East Vine, and South Duke and South Lime streets, Lancaster. At about half-past twelve o'clock in the afternoon he said to some one at the house at which he lived that he had no money, nor any clothes fit to wear on the street, and that he would end his existence on earth. Shortly after making these remarks he went to the garret, where he was in a short time afterward found suspended by the neck, his knees apparently resting on the floor.

IN REMOTE SETTLEMENTS OF UNTOLD VALUE.

Food makes blood; blood makes the body. If the blood be pure, the body is healthy. So if we are not in health, we know some impurities are lurking about which must be removed, and the sooner the better. Brandreth's Pills remove all from the system which nature needs no longer.

The wonderful cures effected by Brandreth's Pills have arrested the attention of enlightened physicians. Upwards of five thousand now use them in their daily practice, and two hundred have given their written testimony as to their innocence and value, as cleansers of the bowels and blood.

Their untold value is to those living in settlements where doctors can only be had at great expense. For if you are sick, you have only to take one or more doses of Brandreth's Pills to get cured. Full Directions are with each box.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,
Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint, and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver, and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digested and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease, as a tree will. There is only one way to cure consumption.

To those three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup is the great medicine that ripens the lungs, natters throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe, a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient is free at once, and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall-bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been found except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care), that will unlock the gall-bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulantand alterative, fully prepared from the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure consumption is, they try to do too much; they git medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, to check fever, and by so doing, they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and so unitually the patient sighs and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills, or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord.—No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lung is sore—they are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease, and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was engaged a way to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompany each one, so that it is not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless the patient's trial they cannot be examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed.—He also may be professionally at No. 32 Bond street, New York, every other Saturday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the charge is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Prices of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists.

Sunday shooting or hunting is prohibited by law under a heavy penalty.

Traps, blinds, snares, &c., are entirely prohibited.

Possession of fish or any other game out of season, is sufficient to convict the party even if they were purchased.

One-half the fine goes to the informer, and any one convicted, and refusing to pay the fine goes to jail for ten days.

FASHIONS FOR THE LADIES.—The prettiest fashion we have had for many a day is the universally popular and universally becoming fashion of wearing white, and it will be carried into the fall and winter as far as practicable. White cloth cloaks and white plush sacks will enliven our promenades, while white jackets and basques will give a July aspect to the frostiest days in January. Fall dresses, like summer ones, are made with over-skirts tight-fitting basques or polonaises. Capes looped at the shoulder are still worn, but are not so much affected lately. So also are skeleton basques, but the cold weather will necessitate a change in out-side garments soon. Ladies' cloth will be much worn for this winter; the favorite shades will be brown, olive, invisible green and blue. Empress cloth and velours will find many purchasers, and water-proof is becoming almost indispensable. It is too soon to say anything positive about furs, but is stated on good authority that the furriers are coming out with something original in their line. Brass buttons will be worn in ladies' cloth dresses. Inexpensive dresses have snakes of the same material. Feathers will be much used this fall and winter in every conceivable form and way. Fur hats will be worn this winter. "Lucifer" is the name of the new shade of red that will be in fashion this autumn and winter. Chintz colored satin cord will be much used in trimming. Scotch plaids are coming in, to stay. English water-proof should be laid past for a rainy day. Peacock's feathers will be used for trimming Frills and flounces are still in favor.

COMPLETED.—With the present issue we complete the original story of "The Blue Ribbon Society," by Mrs. LINCOLN PHELPS. We feel assured that our readers have followed the thread of the story with much interest, and have no doubt the lessons involved will be appropriated by parents and children. Engy Magoln is a fair type of many young ladies of the present day, with an essentially good heart, spoiled by defective home education, while her mother is the counterpart of many a weak-minded, ambitious parent. Alice Apsley and Edith Hayward are both lovely characters, illustrating the effects of intelligent, concientious, healthful domestic training, developing into high moral principle and a noble life.

NEW GROCERY.—Mr. Amos Eckert has opened a first-class Grocery and Provision Store, in the new room built by Jesse Walter, Esq., on York Street, Gettysburg. He will always have on hand the best brands of Sugars, Coffees, Teas, &c. His goods are all fresh from the city and will be sold at the lowest living rates. See advertisement in another column. It

IMPROVED MORNING GLORY.—The famous Morning Glory Stove, so popular as a parlor and office stove, has sometimes been objected to for use in chambers and by families needing but one fire, because not adapted to heat water, &c.—This difficulty has been overcome, and last Monday we saw one of the improved Morning Glories in operation at the Warerooms of Col. C. H. BUEHLER, on Carlisle street, which seems not only to obviate objections but to meet every desired want. It is nothing more or less than the ordinary Morning Glory, with an Oven about 15 inches in diameter attached, and ingeniously arranged dampers by which the heat can be thrown around the oven at pleasure, and making it as hot as the ovens of the best cooking stoves. Water can be boiled, pies baked, and even meat roasted as readily as in a cooking stove. This contrivance, while preserving all the qualities of the Morning Glory as a heater, adapts it for the sick chamber, or use in small families requiring but little cooking. tf

A MERITORIOUS ARTICLE.—We are tired of this idea of "puffing" humbug medicines that are constantly thrown into drug stores, and are merely an imposition upon the community. But, when an article comes into the market that is really worth of comment, we are happy to make public acknowledgement, trusting that some benefit may arise therefrom. Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., is the proprietor of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and we take pleasure in calling attention to it because we know it to be a good article, and a sure cure for that loathsome disease, Catarrh. It is sold by most Druggists, or may be obtained for Sixty Cents through the mail by addressing the proprietor as above—Cleveland Herald. It

CAUTION.—Extended success in any of these counterfeit justly awakens competition, and owing to defective mental and moral structure, often begets envy. Now these are to be expected and may be met with energy and determination; but not unfrequently the bounds of legitimate rivalries are overstepped, and base, unscrupulous men stoop to use the patronage of others to further their nefarious purposes. With the assistance of science, and by means of industry and honesty, in providing a potent remedy, Dr. Stever's Old Standard Tonic Herb Bitters have attained unparalleled celebrity, having been before the public for the last thirty years.

Wherever they have entered the sick or complaining household, their effects have even exceeded expectation, and so far surpassed all we have ever claimed for them by circular, card, or otherwise, that the public confidence in the medical qualities of the Bitters is unbounded. We do not fear the competition of the empirical throng who attempt to palm off remedies upon the people, which are not scientifically compounded, and are destitute of available qualities. Their empiricism will be discovered in the end, and the inefficiency of their preparations found out. We would rather be envied for merited success than despised for failure, however ungeneorus it may be for man either to envy or despise. Against another and a worse class of individuals, we are forced to take action. We allude to those who take advantage of our popularity, and attempt to gain public favor and confidence by counterfeiting the Old Standard Bitters, barely imitating the label, or making other approaches to its preparation calculated to deceive, and as a matter of course, in so far as they succeed, to bring our excellent Tonic into disrepute. The public are hereby warned against all such imitations. In order to further protect ourselves, and save the afflicted from imposition, we have concluded to change our Label so as ever hereafter to sustain our indentity, and keep the reputation of the Old Standard intact. We incur great expense by so doing, but the end warrants the means. The new label along with the caption, directions and neat ornamentation, will present an excellent steel portrait of C. H. Kryder, the senior member of the firm. This will be the badge of its genuineness, as well as a guarantee of the quality of the Bitters. The label will be duly copyrighted, and thus placed beyond the reach of counterfeiters. By no fault of ours shall the public confidence ever be abused or the reputation of the "Old Standard" be allowed to suffer. None genuine unless signed.

PRETTY WOMEN.—A comparatively few Ladies monopolize the Beauty as well as the attention of Society. This ought not to be so, but it is; and will be while men are foolish, and single out pretty faces for companions.

This can all be changed by using Hagan's Magnolia Balm, which gives the Bloom of Youth and a refined sparkling Beauty to the Complexion, pleasing, powerful and natural.

No Lady need complain of a red, tanned, freckled or rustic Complexion, who will invest 75 cents in Hagan's Magnolia Balm. Its effects are truly wonderful.

TOTAL ECLIPSE OF THE SUN, AUG. 7TH, 1869.

[The following account of the late eclipse will doubtless be read with interest by many of our readers. It is furnished by Benjamin Aycrigg, C. E., Ph. D., of Passaic, N. J., who was one of a party of scientific gentlemen, whose point of observation was within the line of totality, near New Albany, Ind. Dr. Aycrigg is a gentleman of varied and accurate learning, and a careful observer of scientific phenomena. His views respecting the aurora and corona, as given below, are well worth attention, and will aid in making up the general scientific results to be attained from the observations made in different parts of the country.]

PASSAIC, NEW JERSEY,
Sept. 1st, 1869.

To V. L. CONRAD,
Prof. Physical Science,
Penna. College, Gettysburg, Pa.

DEAR SIR:—I will endeavor to give you a more definite description of the general appearance of the total eclipse, than anything I have yet seen, by combining my report of Aug. 9th, to Dr. E. S. Crosier, Sec. Soc. Nat. Hist., New Albany, Ind., with the descriptions in the Independent of Aug. 19th, by Rev. F. H. Wines, at Springfield, Ill., "not two miles from the central line," and by other members of our party at New Albany, where our point of observation was about 20 miles north of the central line, on a knob 340 feet above low water, with a clear horizon of about 60 miles radius, from N. 10° E to 30° E, or 140 degrees.—From this point, the Ohio River, with New Albany and Jeffersonville on the north, and Portland and Louisville on the south, was in full view.

As the eclipse increased, the atmosphere appeared to have a greenish hue. This I supposed to be a deception arising from the greenish hue of all objects that contained yellow, as buildings in cities, the naked ground, and the faces of the company. All remarked the sickly appearance of faces, and the deep green of the foliage. The same effect, but in a greater degree, is produced by the blue flame of burning alcohol.

During the total eclipse, there was a bluish white circular corona surrounding the moon; and beyond this corona, were rays from the centre, projecting beyond the moon in the direction of the motion or ecliptic, about three-fourths of the diameter of the moon, and nearly the same at right angles to that direction, the whole forming nearly a square, with the sides vertical and horizontal. Then from the centre of the upper side, undulations flashed to the left, resembling the corruscations of an ordinary aurora, passing from the centre to the angle in about half a second.

Several of our party agreed as to the square form, but differed as to the corruscations. I am inclined to the opinion that this square was in the atmosphere of the earth, and caused by electricity as an ordinary aurora. The angles of the square corresponding with the line of motion, and at right angles to the same, may arise from the general law, that a magnetic current is always at right angles to a current of electricity. The apparent radiation may have been the effect of perspective.

Mr. Wines did not observe the circular corona with the square, but says: "This corona did not form a perfect circle, but was rather rhomboidal in its shape, owing to the greater length of rays at four points, corresponding very nearly to the four principal points of the compass. The greatest length of the corona was in the direction of the ecliptic."

This agrees with my own description of the aurora, excepting that he says nothing of flashes of light. But a gentleman who saw the partial eclipse at New York, informs me that he distinctly saw flashes of light, but could not distinguish the aurora. I am positive that there were flashes as described. These may have been seen at other places. I kept my eye fixed on this point only, to be certain of the fact, as other matters required attention, and the total eclipse lasted only two minutes and 15 seconds.

Again:—During the total eclipse, the light reflected from the atmosphere about 50 miles to the North, had the effect of a hazy half twilight; while that from the South about 90 miles distant, appeared as the last rays of twilight. According to my recollection, these partial twilights were segments of circles; that at the North rising to about 30 degrees, and that at the South about 5 degrees. They were striped horizontally with different colors. The prevailing color was orange deadened by the haze. The remainder of the sky had not the transparent appearance of a dark night, but appeared to be obscured by a black fog, composed of moisture and smoke, like that of London or Pittsburgh. This was deepest in the direction of the deepest shadow, N. W. and S. E.

Mr. Clarkson, editor of the Iowa State Register, says in his report: "A sombre curtain was falling from the hazy heavens—a strange mist, like the smoke of Indian Summer made moist. When the totality was half elapsed, the horizon at the North and North-west was tipped in beautiful orange." Mr. Wines says, "the air was copper-colored, the grass and foliage dark blue." And subsequently, "the sky was dark, as in a storm."

The position of Mr. Clarkson is not given; but I infer that he was near the northern limit of totality, where the mist of Indian Summer intervening for a short distance between him and the illuminated atmosphere on the North, did not obscure the "beautiful orange" on that side; but the mist of 140 miles on the opposite side, made the southern illumitated atmosphere invisible, as he does not refer to it.

We had a deeper shadow on the North, being 50 miles from the northern limit, and 90 miles from the southern limit. I designate the appearance of the partial twilight, as "orange deadened by haze;" and that at the South was most deadened. Mr. Wines, at 70 miles from the southern limit, says, "the air was copper-colored." This I understand to signify, that the arcs on the North and South were orange colored, obscured by a dark haze; while the remainder of the "sky was dark as in a storm." Because such was the fact with us; and if the air was copper-colored, the grass and foliage could not be "dark blue," or "deep green," as was the fact. The cause of this green or blue tint became obvious during the total eclipse, when it became evident that the corona or delicate photosphere surrounding the stronger light of the sun, had a bluish tint. Hence, the peculiar tint in all eclipses when the central light of the sun is partially shut out, and blue predominates.

With us, the sky was cloudless, excepting the dark haze during the eclipse. This I attribute to the temporary condensation of moisture caused by the reduction of temperature below the dew point. Our standard thermometers from the Smithsonian Institution gave the maximum 75°.5, at 3 P. M., in the shade; and thence, continued to fall to 64°.5 at 7 P. M. The solar thermometer indicated 89°.2 at 3 P. M.; 68°.7 during the total eclipse from 5:20 to 5:30; and 71° at 6:20 P. M., and then continued to fall. The wet bulb thermometer gave 58° as its minimum, at 5:40 P. M. Hence, at the minimum, the temperature was 10°.7 degrees above the dew point, at the place of observation. This, however, was near the earth previously heated by the sun, and then radiating the accumulated heat, so that, immediately at the point of observation, there was no haze. But I suppose, that at a comparatively short distance above, the temperature was below the dew point, and even looking downwards from the knob towards the cities, the atmosphere appeared hazy.

We made no photometric observations, and I have no definite opinion as to the depth of shadow. But on Aug. 10th, I inquired of Mr. Rothrock at Wyandotte Cave, 30 miles west of New Albany, and nearly on the central line, and he said: "It was much darker than at full moon. The chickens near the coop appeared to be distressed. I endeavored to see how they acted, but could not distinguish them. There is no difficulty in seeing them by moonlight."

We could perceive no effect on the needle of an ordinary surveyor's compass. We could distinctly see the red flame projecting beyond the moon, and Mercury, Venus, and some bright stars. Had the darkness been simply the absence of light in a transparent atmosphere, I suppose we could have seen many more stars.

I presume you have received a copy of the New Albany Daily Ledger, of Aug. 9th, containing the minute details of the telescopic, barometric, and themometric observations by different members of our party, including my own report, hastily prepared for immediate printing, upon which I have herein enlarged in order to compare my observations with those made elsewhere, and especially for the purpose of calling your attention to the "nearly square" or "rhomboidal" aurora. I am convinced that this was in our own atmosphere. I can conceive no physical reason why this form should be attached to the stationary sun, and with the greater diagonal in the direction of the motion of the moon. Nor can it be attached to the moon, or it would be brighter at other times if permanent; and the accidental position of the earth behind the moon at that moment, would be no obvious reason for its instant appearance and disappearance. But the flashes of light determine the question in my mind, and prove the aurora to be within our own atmosphere. Hence, in making experiments to ascertain the nature of the "red hydrogen flame," the question will be complicated by the three different lights:—the red—self luminous? the circular corona—self-luminous? and the rhomboidal aurora—self-luminous?

I find from conversation, that it is not generally known, that during all partial eclipses of the sun, the shadows of all leaves and the like indicate the eclipse, as if a circular piece had been cut out of the edge of each leaf. During an annular eclipse also, the image of each object is surrounded by a penumbra or halo, in the ratio of an eighth an inch to the foot of distance of the shadow; or at an angle of 32 minutes, equal to the angular diameter of the sun.

Since the above was written, I notice in a report of the proceedings of the American Association for the promotion of Science, at Salem, Mass., Aug. 23d, that Prof. Peirce remarked, that "the corona might be merely an auroral phenomenon; might consist of meteors shot out from the sun; or might be caused by the sun's atmosphere reflecting the intensely hot liquid masses below it. It was a very difficult subject. He had come there prepared to maintain the meteoric theory; but what he had heard had rather shaken his confidence in it; and he was now inclined to think the aurora was the simplest explanation. The nebular hypothesis was, in his opinion, not well founded."

Now, no one in this convention of the Association appears to have drawn a distinction between the corona surrounding the sun, and the aurora in our atmosphere. Perhaps with them the aurora overpowered the corona. I am confident that I saw them both, as described; and no one had a better opportunity for observation than I had. Nor is Prof. Peirce's hypothesis of reflection satisfactory, because the blue tint of the corona differed from the direct light of the sun. I infer that it always differs in the same manner, because partial eclipses have the same effect on colors, as I can certify from frequent observation.—Whatever this corona may be, I can suppose it produces the appearance of the immense willow leaves discovered by Nasmith, arranged systematically over the surface of the sun, and, as it were, bridging the chasms of the dark spots; for the exterior of the circular corona was not a uniform circle, but appeared indefinitely wavy and transparent; and hence, each wave would act as lens to focalize the rays.

Again, the report of the Scientific Association at Salem continues: "Several astronomers testified to having seen meteors passing over the black surface of the moon, between the cusps of the sun. As this phenomnon was seen at several places, by different individuals, no other explanation than the above seems to be admissable; though the first gentleman who mentioned the matter believed it to have been caused by midges."

Now, I suppose these to have been neither meteors nor midges, but in the eye itself when fatigued by long intent observation, as I have experienced myself. The position is remarkable—"between the cusps; and seen at different places in the same position;" while the parallax would place the same meteor in different positions.

I have met with no reported observation on the Zodiacal light. I saw none, unless the rhomboidal aurora, or the circular corona be the central portion of it sufficiently strong to be perceptible in the presence of the other light, and to penetrate the haze which, I suppose, must have intervened, although there was no such appearance.

Or, if it were not for the electric flashes, I might suppose the rhomboidal aurora to have been local, and dependent on the hygrometric condition of the air near the observer; and the apparently diverging rays to have been actually parallel, as we frequently observe at sunset near the sun, and occasionally opposite the sun, parallel streaks of reflected light apparently diverging or converging, from the effect of perspective. Nor am I certain that electric flashes would be inconsistent with auroras as local as rainbows. Hence, I am prepared to hear very different accounts of this aurora from different places.

Very Respectfully,
B. AYCRIGG.

DR. DILL AND EXTRA PAY.

Dr. Dill was elected and took his seat under a specified contract that he should receive $1000 for his services; but when a proposition was offered by a democratic member to vote themselves $500 additional, making their salary $1500 the Dr. found it Convenient to be among the absent when the vote was taken, thereby showing his willingness to pocket the $500 extra, and throw the responsibility on somebody else by "dodgeing." This was a cowardly outrage upon the constituency which he represented, to permit an attempt to vote $66,500 of the hard earnings of the Tax payers of this commonwealth out of the Treasury without casting his vote or raising his voice against it. Let every honest citizen go to the Polls and rebuke this outrage by casting his vote for Col. JOHN WOLFORD, and our interests will be carefully watched, and the Treasury guarded against future attempts of this kind. READING.

THREE ROSES.

Just when the red June roses blow
She gave me one a year ago—
A rose whose crimson breath revealed
The secret that its heart concealed,
And whose half-shy, half-tender grace
Blushed back upon the giver's face.
A year ago—a year ago—
To hope was not to know.

Just when the red June roses blow
I plucked her one—a month ago;
Its half-blown crimson to eclipse,
I laid it on her smiling lips;
The balmy fragrance of the south
Drew sweetness from her sweeter mouth.
Swiftly do golden moments creep—
To hold is not to keep.

The red June roses now are past,
This very day I broke the last;
And now its perfumed breath is hid,
With her, beneath a coffin-lid.
There will its petals fall apart,
And wither on her icy heart.
And so, at three red rose' cost,
My world was gained and lost.

THE CARE OF CANARIES.

In the first place, do not use a painted cage. The birds will peck the wires, more or less, and the paint is very injurious, often fatal to them; so is tobacco smoke. A bird kept in the room where the odor of a cigar is allowed is not only subject to great discomfort, but its life is endangered. The larger the cage the better for the birds, and if not new, it should be scalded and well dried before putting them into it. This precaution is necessary to avoid mites, which prey upon the birds and are sure to infest the nest, unless great care be taken. The cage should be thoroughly cleaned every morning. The easiest way to do this is to place a piece of clean brown paper (not newspaper, for they often peck it), on the drawer of the cage, changing it every morning.

The perches should not be forgotten, but drawn out, washed, and returned, one at time, this can hardly be done while there are eggs in the nest. At that time care must be taken to avoid jarring the cage, as it disturbs the eggs; but it should be kept as clean as possible.

The drinking-cup and bathing-dish should be well washed and filled with fresh water every morning (in warm weather it should be changed oftener), and the seed-cup replenished. Canary seed principally should be given, but a little rape seed every day is beneficial, and bruised hemp seed in about the proportion of one-third (all hemp seed is too hearty and heating) is good, particularly when laying and brooding.

The seeds must be fresh and dry. A piece of cuttel-fish bone is always needed. It should be put in the upper part of the cage, as it is thus kept clean and dry. A lump of sugar occasionally may do no harm, but as a general rule avoid sweets, and keep birds, like children, on plain food.

Lettuce, plaintain seed and leaves, chickweed, are all good if fresh, and the birds are very fond of them. Fruit, perfectly ripe and fresh, does good rather than harm. At the time of laying and setting, also while bringing the young, the birds require richer food than usually. An egg, boiled hard (not the yolk alone—it is too heating, pounded with biscuit and bread, about half and half, should be given daily, and the earlier the better, especially after the young are hatched, as the parents feed them from this and the green food provided for them.

The egg and biscuit cannot be safely neglected. About a fortnight is the time of incubation. Do not stimulate your bird too much to set, for she will be apt to go beyond her strength, and loose her own life by raising too many broods. Two or three broods a year are quite enough. It is a mistake to seperate the pair while the female is setting, or at any time, unless, which is very rare, the male pecks the young.

Guard your birds from draughts, from exposure to cold at night, and also from too much heat. Bear in mind that their part of the room, when the weather is cold enough for a fire, is warmer than yours, as the heated air ascends. During cold nights the cage should be covered, unless the fire is kept in all night.

Always beware of a cat. She should never be allowed in the same room. She has been known to pull a bird between the cage wires, not even leaving a feather.

Avoid frightening your birds. It is very easy to have them know and love you, and welcome your coming, but they do not like to be handled.

Time and care rae required to keep birds well and happy in a cage.

TO DRIVE AWAY ROACHES AND ANTS.—Take powdered borax and scatter wherever the cockroaches most frequent, and they will disappear directly. A safe and efficacious remedy for a most annoying vermin. Ants can be driven out of cupboards if lumps of camphor are scattered about them. Ants object to strong scents, and in tropical climates are prevented from entering rooms by powerfully scented oils and gums.

A sponge can be sprinkled with sugar and laid upon shelves where ants are numerous; the next morning plunge the sponge quickly into boiling water, and most of the intruders will be destroyed then scatter camphor and you will have no trouble.

BOILING POTATOES.—There is a great deal constantly said as to the best way to boil potatoes. The following, said to be an Irish mode, is no doubt, very good. It is said that in Ireland they always nick off a piece of the skin, put hem in a pot of cold water, which is gradually heated, but never allowed to boil; cold water should be added as soon as the water begins to boil; when done, pour all the water off, cover the vessel with a cloth, and in a few minutes they are cool enough for use.

SHOOTS will push on old and young trees just where the limbs are not wanted. Remember that the new tender shoot will soon be a hard, woody branch. A slight rub will now remove it, but if left a year the knife must be used. Rub off these shoots when young and save cutting hereafter.

NINE-TENTHS of the diseases which happen to the hoofs and ankles of the horse are occasioned by standing on the dry plank floors of the stable.

MANGERS should be low, and stables well ventilated and well lighted. Many horses are made blind by being kept in the dark.

LOOK out for morals as well as muscle in hiring farm hands. They may ruin the boys by their vicious examples.

CARROTS are recommended for horses to aid digestion, and tomatoes to cows to improve and increase the milk.

PORK and beans are the most nutritious food for the money that can be found.—Three cents worth will give a hearty meal.

SMOKE from rags, dry wood or corn cobs is better than from tobacco in paricling bees to remove honey, etc.

STEWED pumpkin as a poultice has been found of great value in reducing inflammatory rheumatism.

FEED stock regularly, and cut and cook food as much as possible. Few farmers do it.

RICH milk is not the best for calves. A butter cow is not a good stock cow.

INSECTS do not infest very late sown peas as they do early ones.

THE WORLD,

DODGES' OHIO AND BUCKEYE

Reapers and Mowers.

A careful examination of these machines will commence any one of their superior merits over all others, in strength, durability, ease of draft, and reliability for work, on all kinds of ground, and in every variety of grass and grain. Confident of this we invite those in want of a good machine to examine for themselves before purchasing elsewhere.

These machines can be sold as Naked Mowers—REAPERS as Hand Rake, Self-Rake, or Dropper—Two different sizes: No. 4 Machine, with two cutter Bars and three Knives, cutting five and a half feet in grain and four feet eight inches in grass; No. 2, cutting four feet six inches.

We have that confidence in these machines that we are willing to let those wanting a machine test them with any other they may wish, and keep the one that gives most satisfaction. DODGES' AUTOMAN SELF-RAKE has given such general satisfaction that we consider it the best Self-Rakeout, and is attached to no other machine except the Dodge Machine, the Ohio and Buckeye patent.

For the benefit of those wanting machines we would refer them to a few of those to whom we have sold for last season, viz:

John Deardorff, Sen., Henry Culp,

STILL AHEAD!

HOFFHEINS'

REAPER & MOWER,

One of the Greatest Machines of the Age.

I SUPERIOR to any other Machine now in use, as I will excel any that will ever be introduced, having been thoroughly tried and given general satisfaction. I would now inform all those who intend purchasing Machines to call and examine for themselves. This Machine is noted particularly to excel all other machines in strength, durability, ease of draft, and reliability of work, in all kinds of grass and grain—it cuts long or short, and admirably, which is a great item in Machines to a farmer. It can be used as a hand rake as well as a self-raker. It cuts 5 feet 2 inches in grain; 4 feet 10 inches in grass; has a steel cutter bar, with wrought iron guards; it can be used as a Single Mower as well as a Combined Machine.

A full trial of the Machine can be had.

Also, SHIREMAN'S SELF-DISCHARGING HORSE RAKE, and the great and well-known BRANT RAKE, the best rakes ever introduced. We would also call your attention to the IRON DOUBLE SHOVEL PLOUGH, which is very light and strong, with steel shovels, easily adjusted to run shallow or deep, and is neatly and tastefully made

ALSO, THE KEELER AND EXCELSIOR FANNING MILL, the old Bamborough Fan improved, for many years a great favorite among the farmers of Pennsylvania. It is large and strong, has two sockie screens, and warranted to work perfectly.

Also all kinds of FARMING IMPLEMENTS always on hand.

Any person wishing to examine these machines can see them at the Battle-field Hotel, or at my residence, 3 miles from Gettysburg, between the Taneytown road and the Baltimore pike.

GEISER'S PATENT SELF-REGULATING

GRAIN SEPARATOR,

CLEANER AND BAGGER,

With the latest improved Triple-geared Horse Power, either Gear or Belt.

This machine has successfully competed with all the best of the different patented Grain Separators, and now has the reputation of being the best Separator ever pronced; in fact, the only Separator and Cleaner ever before the public to give general satisfaction.

It is simple, easily managed, reliable, durable, compact and cleanly in work by while in operation, not making near the dust as the common machine or other Separators.

Farmers can rest assured that this machine is no humbug, and judging from the high recommendation of farmers now using them we must come to the conclusion that it is the very machine that farmers want.

is pliant and elastic, and entirely free from the stiffness found in so many Pianos. In they are unexcelled. Using none but the very best seasoned material, the large capital employed in our business enables us to keep constantly on hand a large stock of lumber, &c., on hand.

Our Square Action we have our New Improved Overstrung Scale and the AGRAFFE TREBLE.

We would call special attention to our late improvements in

GRAND PIANOS AND SQUARE GRANDS,

Patented August 14, 1866,

Which bring the Piano nearer perfection than has yet been attained.

Every Piano fully Warranted for Five Years.

P. BENTZ, York, Pa., Sole Agent for the above celebrated instruments, is by special arrangements enabled to furnish them at the Very lowest factory prices.
